BRAND GUIDELINES

About Us

MyPanic is a compact, silicone whistle keychain that provides a reliable, accessible tool for personal safety. Its high-pitched sound deters threats and alerts others, while its durable, waterproof, shock-resistant, and discreet design makes it suitable for students, professionals, children, and the elderly. Fully mechanical, it works instantly without charging or maintenance.

Paired with the Isibani Foundation, the initiative also addresses gender-based violence (GBV), mental health, and community wellness through workshops, online resources, and support networks. This combination ensures immediate physical safety through MyPanic and long term empowerment and resilience through education and support, creating a comprehensive solution for individual and community protection.

Our Brand

MyPanic exists at the intersection of preparedness and empowerment. Built for real-life situations, our whistle represents immediate protection, while our community partnerships address deeper issues like GBV and mental health. Our brand is bold, supportive, and relentlessly dedicated to creating environments where everyone feels safe.

Our brand was born from the need for a practical, everyday tool that could protect individuals without complexity or compromise. MyPanic embodies durability, clarity, and action. Every element—from our compact silicone whistle to our education and support initiatives—reflects our core belief that safety should be easy, accessible, and backed by compassion. We are proud to stand with communities, offering both instant protection and pathways to long-term healing and empowerment.
